Stepping Out

by Richard Harris

7-14 July 2007

This is an enlightening song and dance gala about growing old but staying young inside. Brilliantly written by Richard Harris, it tells the story of Mavis, a dance teacher who signs up to teach tap-dancing at a church hall in London. But when she's bombarded with a clumsy group of problem-ridden enrolees, she realizes she's in for more than she bargained for.

As Mavis and her students rehearse for their big end-of-year performance, they confess to their frustrations of womanhood, bond together and are transformed into a formidable dance troupe.

The cast includes David Oatley (Brimstone and Treacle), Aysev Ismail (Steel Magnolias), Linda Gay (The Wiz), Desni Hanford (Habeas Corpus) and Charlotte Bacon (Mrs Klein). Also taking part are choreographer Jenny Appleby, Lola Lee-Walsh from the Geoffrey Whitworth Theatre, and newcomers Maria Berry, Katrina Summerfield and Annette Hines

If you are looking for an evening of wonderful toe-tapping entertainment with a bundle full of laughs along the way, then this is the show for you!

Directed by Wendy Marsh
